

the Snot goblin

Things to write and Draw

Do you have Snotgoblins in your cupboards or closets at home?

Let's write a list of things that are in your closet or that you would like to be in your closet.

Maybe you have some smelly socks and mouldy apple cores or maybe you have dragons and goblins and fairies and castles!

What would happen if they came to life? If there was a magic world inside your closet?

Let's write a story about it; Or draw a picture of the world inside your closet.

Maybe Snot and all of the other Snotgoblins live there too and are part of your story.

What would you do if Snot and his family moved into your room?

Let's make up a story about them.

Let's draw pictures of Snot with some of his friends in your room at home.

What are they doing?

Here is Snot with one of his favourite treats!

What else do you think Snot and the other Snotgoblins might eat?

One of my best friends Mikhaila drew these.

Do you think you could make up and draw a Snotgoblin Feast?

Snot's fingers look like crab-legs.

What other things have fingers that look like crab-legs?

What do your fingers look like? Are they sausages, carrots or willow sticks?

This is a picture by a very famous Italian artist called Giuseppe Arcimboldo. It is a man made out of flowers.

Let's draw a person made out of all sorts of other parts.

Or write a list or a story about what you think you and your friends are made up of.
